Dear Mr Racey,

Thank you for your letter; I have looked at the skins of the Garganey and find I have a very nice adult male to let you have, an at present not stall sure about a duck however. I may say that to get this species now in the spring dress is extremely difficult. It has a limited breeding range in the British Isles and the marshed it frequents are all strictly protected. I will presently see what other material of the species you are requiring I can find. At the moment I am awaiting on the Board of Trade with regard to the renewal of my Research Import L'cence, and hope that this will come through in duc course endersed for the next six months. If this is returned in order I will proceed to make up a parcel and advise you further.

Duck and the Heoded Merganser, and would much like the Tringa incana and the White-winged Crossbill.

Razor-billed Auk, it will be one of the southern population - Alca torda islandica.

My book on the Birds of Kent will be fully illustrated, for there will be 34 coloured plates as well as a large number of black and white illustrations, several maps and figures.

rand regards,

Yours very sincerely,
